Too Faced Born This Way Foundation Review - A New Holy Grail for Skin? Sometimes, just sometimes, a product comes along that is oh-so-perfect, and special, and GENIUS that it makes the sun seem to shine brighter, the birds sing louder and reminds me just why I'm so obsessed with make-up in the first place. Let me start this off by saying: I am a makeup fanatic. I watch beauty guru Youtube videos as I eat breakfast, do my face up every day, and am always on the lookout for new products to try. However, it can be frustrating trying out cool new products, when so many of them clash...I tried a sample of this for only one-day so I don't know if my opinion is super legit. The foundation looked good when I first put it on but I did notice a sticky feeling I would get if I patted my face which doesn't happen with my usual foundation.
